2. The initial discussions on the problem were between [] at which time Mr. [] indicated that the Director of Communications (D/OC) had stated that he was opposed to OC relinquishing any space or providing any large amounts of funding for a [] output media center. [] indicated that it was his understanding that the proposed media center would occupy the same space as the existing ODP Data Access Center, and that OL would include in its 1984 budget submission, costs associated with the establishment of an output media center. Reference was made to the joint OC/OL study on [] requirements which indicated that the two components produce an average of 242 computer output jobs per week containing an average of 8525
